a.html. I was under the impression that it was all from the same company. It was incredibly difficult to get back to any normal level. But that's ok, I got a taste of it, which made the whole thing even more fun. But, what do I do when I've found a perfect gift for someone? On Christmas eve, I had no clue what to get my sister, because I didn't want to spoil the surprise. But, since I knew how she loves Pokemon, and I love Pokemon, I was on a mission to find something I know she'd love. I went to get a book on Pokemon, but I was on the verge of melting. You see, my sister and I both love the series, and she loves it so much that she'd already spent a good amount of money on it. That is, before we were blessed with the birth of our niece, and she's had to put it on pause. I was so annoyed at the moment, but as I thought about it, I realized that there were actually some great things she could use for a gift. One thing she loves is the Poke'Mon plush toys. I was able to find some great deals on these things, and they make great stocking stuffers, or just amazing gifts for men. They don't have to be flashy, but if you're looking to impress your sister or girlfriend, then these would be the best way to go. Another thing she loves is cookies. It is very difficult to find a good set of cookies in one package, and the fact that they're homemade makes them even more amazing. I was really happy when I found a great set of cookies with a photo of Pikachu on the box, but I was more than surprised to find them on sale. I ended up spending around \$20, but I was happy with the results. All in all, it was a great Christmas! I got to spend time with my sister, and it was the best day ever. And I was also able to get a good deal on some great gifts for her.Q: How do you do cyclic notation for sets? For instance, how do you denote the set of all even numbers between 1 and 100? I'm getting lost in a sea of parentheses. A: The set $\{1,2,3,\dots,100\}$ would denote the set of all numbers from 1 to 100
